Several professors from SERSP wrote one of the chapters ("Philosophical congruence in Disability Research and Policy: Current Perspectives on Impairment.") Through camp experiences, students will earn internship credit and plan recreation and community service for children and adults with disabilities. Students from the program will help with a patient camp for children with albinism and retinitis pigmentosa, the most common eye diseases on the Navajo reservation. As part of the program, students will learn about the challenges faced by indigenous communities. Last January, the vision rehabilitation, and school psychology, was concerned with issues of the newspapers, pages about the school, the teacher, and the area, plus links to Arizona's Land The UofA Bookstore will be on site with selections by our featured authors for sale and a corner. Crafts for kids, face painting, and other children's books are available. The Erasmus Circle Coffee Reception, contact Julie Johnson at johnsoju@u.arizona.edu; Awards Luncheon, contact Ishara Smith at 520-621-2345. Open to: All alumni and friends of the University of Arizona. Website: digital.library.arizona.edu/cowpuncher. A visit to the cowpuncher connects you with the history of the West and the University of Arizona. You can find our tent across the Mall from the Convocation Center, turn left at the corner. You can find our tent up here on the Mall. Visit our website to see video interviews with seven of the former little cowpunchers, read transcripts, and scroll through a photo gallery. You can also listen to and see video interviews with former cowpunchers. Program: Homecoming 2005 Saturday, November 5, 9:30 a.m., International Collection of Adolescent Literature is the largest collection in the United States, and a hidden gem is the largest collection on the Navajo reservation. Learn about the international collection and meet authors David Christiana and Susie Huhn. Visit our website to see video interviews with seven of the former little cowpunchers, read transcripts, and scroll through a photo gallery. You can also listen to and see video interviews with former cowpunchers. Program: The Golden Circle/Alumni Awards Luncheon, contact Ishara Smith at 520-621-2345. For more information about The Golden Circle/Libraries Limited Arizona Children's Author/Illustrator Award, contact Kathy Short. For more information about The Distinguished Citizen Award at the College of Education, contact Julie Johnson at johnsoju@u.arizona.edu. For more information about The Distinguished Citizen Award at the College of Education, contact Julie Johnson at johnsoju@u.arizona.edu. For more information about The Cowpuncher Award, contact Julie Johnson at johnsoju@u.arizona.edu. For more information about The Cowpuncher Award, contact Julie Johnson at johnsoju@u.arizona.edu. For more information about The Cowpuncher Award, contact Julie Johnson at johnsoju@u.arizona.edu. To see the latest news from the College of Education, please visit our website.